

ASRS Continuing Medical Education

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION CREDITS

The American Society of Retina Specialists is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The American Society of Retina Specialists designates this live activity for a maximum of 8.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this meeting, participants should be able to:

- Improve recruitment, training and retention of clinical and administrative practice staff to ensure continuity of care.
- Identify and evaluate new technologies that streamline practice operations and improve patient outcomes.
- Improve outcomes for patients by engaging with other non-ophthalmic medical specialists and industry to develop care coordination strategies.
- Navigate current insurance reimbursement and commercial and non-commercial compliance issues to implement best practices.
- Implement basics and become aware of updates to coding and documentation for retina services, new retina drugs and delivery treatments, as well as other new or modified diagnosis codes.
- Understand the impact of federal policy on retina practices and patients. Learn strategies to influence policy to ensure it is evidence-based and clinically relevant.
- Provide opportunities for younger members and fellows in training to understand the fundamentals of retina practice administration and develop skills to advance professionally.
